Free Trucking In Upland Clean Up Begins Saturday

UPLAND DIVIDED INTO DISTRICTS FOR PICK-UP DUTY

Six-Day Drive to Beautify City Planned as Free Trucking Offered

Something new in cleaning up the city is planned for a week beginning Saturday with the city trucks being available to property owners in hauling discarded material and debris. Purpose of the celan up drive is to beautify the city and at the same time remove fire hazards.

The city has been divided into six districts. City trucks will work in one district each day and another district on succeeding days and thus cover the municipality. Property owners in each district can have use of trucks for hauling off discard if they leave their rubbish at the edge of their property on the day specified in the clean up schedule. For example, on Saturday, first day of the campaign, the city trucks will be available in the area from Euclid to Campus avenue and from Arrow highway to the Santa Fe tracks. City truckmen cannot repeat in this district and interested persons are to get their discard ready for hauling off by Saturday.

Richad G. Manley, city service manager, has listed boundaries of the clean up for each day as follows:

Saturday, May 29. — Euclid avenue on west; Campus on east; Arrow highway on the north and Santa Fe tracks on the south.

Tuesday, June 1.—Euclid avenue on the west; Campus avenue on the east; Eleventh street on the north, and district along San Bernardino road.

Wednesday, June 2. — Euclid avenue on the west; Campus avenue on the east; Eleventh street on the south, and Thirteenth street on the north.

Thursday, June 3.—Euclid avenue on the west; city limits on the east; Santa Fe tracks on the north and city limits on the south.

Friday, June 4.—Campus avenue on the west; city limits on the east; Arrow highway on the north and Santa Fe tracks on the south.

Saturday, June 5.—All on west side of Euclid avenue from Seventh street to Twelfth street and all in outside district who leave word at the city office.

NEW BILL PLANNED TO PUT BURDEN OF RELIEF ON COUNTY

C. E. Grier's Measure Defeated —New Measure May Boost Costs

All the burden of unemployment relief in this county will be on county taxpayers if a bill now in the state senate for a final vote is approved, C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, said today.

Mr. Grier is endeavoring to get support in defeating the measure. That phase of the legislation is reported to be a part of the governor's program and the bill is likely to be given support, according to reports.

A bill, drawn under Mr. Grier's direction and supported by most of the county supervisors in the state, was killed by the governor's veto, after having been approved in the assembly and senate.

Mr. Grier's bill divided the relief burden between the state and the counties and protected owners of real estate from having to assume an unbearable portion of the load. Organizations throughout the state supported the measure but the governor's veto killed the effort. An effort was made to override the veto but political pressure from the governor's office is reported to have made this attempt futile.

Support was then given to a measure, amended in the assembly, to relieve the state of any burden in providing for unemployment relief. The bill is expected to reach a vote in the senate within a short time

Passage of this measure would mean a terrific boost in the cost of county government to provide funds to continue the vast unemployment relief program. In the past the state and the county have shared in the expense.

Mr. Grier, as president of the California Supervisors' association, has called a special meeting of that organization in Sacramento June 11 to discuss the situaton in the state left by the governor's veto.

Mr. Grier returned recently from Sacramento where he closely watched work of the legislators. His presence was an important factor in the wide support given the proposal.

Record Fireworks Display Assured As Money Given

An order is scheduled to be placed for the largest display of fireworks ever held in the Upland district as the result of contributions being received for the local display.

Additional contributions are wanted and they may be given to Leigh Thompson, energetic leader of the fireworks committee, or left at the Upland chamber of commerce office. Mr. Thompson is devoting much time in the preparations for the display, which will draw a throng to the vicinity of Lone Hill July 4.

Money for the display must be either paid or pledged within a week so that an order may be placed with fireworks manufacturers. A meeting of the fireworks committee and the representative of the manufacturer is expected to be held here this week.

While Mr. Thompson is elated over the response, additional contributions are needed to reach the goal. Further cooperation will result in a fireworks display that will delight the throng and provide a community entertainment.

EXCHANGE PLANT IN 24-HOUR WORK

By-Products Sales Better Now Than Ever as New Equipment Operating

Exchange Orange Products Co. plant in Ontario is in operation 24 hours a day six days a week, handling unmarketable fruit from southland orange groves.

One new feature at the plant is a dehydrator, with a daily capacity of 25 dry tons of orange meal for stock feed. This equipment was installed this spring. Thousands of tons of damaged Valencias will wind up in the dehydrator after juice, oil and pectin have been extracted.

Daily capacity of the entire by-products plant is around 400 tons of oranges. Many juice products are made with the sale of them being wider than ever. In general all products from the orange plant in Ontario and the lemon plant in Corona are selling at a better rate than at any period in their history.

ROTARY CLUB HOLDS MEMORIAL PROGRAM

Dr. Foster Speaks—John Howe Tells of Horrors of Andersonville Prison

In observance of the approaching Memorial day the Upland Rotary club put on an appropriate program at their meeting at the Upland Inn today noon. In the absence of Dr. R. C. Stone, club president, Frank K. Nichols presided at the meeting.

Club members were delighted to be honored by the presence of Alois Podrasnik, honorary member of the club, who made a short talk, in which he stated he has the distinction of being the oldest living officer of the Civil war.

Allan Barr, commander of the Upland American Legion post, gave most interesting remarks regarding the proper manner of displaying the American flag on various occasions and under different circumstances.

John D. Howe, whose father was a Civil war veteran and who was a prisoner in the famous Andersonville prison, told something of the horrors through which Union soldiers went while imprisoned there. Short of food, medical supplies and with disease rampant among the prisoners conditions were described as the worst ever known in a prison.

Dr. Bert Foster, greatly loved retired pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal church, made a wonderful plea for world peace in his short address. It is not more canons or swords that are needed, but it is necessary to live closer to the cross of the Redeemer in order to find the way to the promised land, he said. He plead for a proper observance of Memorial day and said righteousness makes for peace, declaring it is proper that the younger generations should look to the older men to make the world better. The world may not be far from peace, he said, as men are thinking peace.

The poppy posters, made annually by school children throughout the nation, are designed to call attention to the very worthy cause for which the Legion Auxiliary sells the red Flanders poppies just previous to each annual Memorial day. The money received is used entirely for the benefit of disabled World war veterans and their dependents and orphans of the war's dead.

The poppies are made exclusively by disabled American World war veterans.

LOCAL AQUEDUCT BUILDERS AFTER THREE-YEAR JOB

Construction of Big Link in Water Line May Keep Firms Here Longer

Possibility of either the J. F. Shea Co. or the American Concrete & Steel Pipe Co. remaining in this district for several years appeared today. The two companies hold contracts in installing pipe in the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct.

A new contract is to be let soon in extending the distributing line to Santa Ana and other member cities in Orange county. Bids for this line are expected to be opened soon. It is unofficially reported the two companies are bidding on the new job. Other companies working on other units in the vast aqueduct system may also bid. The two companies with plants in this district, however, are reported to be more favorably situated than the other companies.

The Shea Co., employing nearly 150 men, is placing the huge pipe line in the Claremont district in extending the line west. It began placing the line at Campus avenue, Ontario, and has worked west. In about six months it will have finished its part of the project under the present contract.

The American Co., with a pipe-building plant at Rochester, is working east, its district extending from Campus avenue, Ontario, eastward.

If either of these companies get the new contract, it will require approximately three years to build. This would mean the workers would be in this district during that period.

Many employes of the two companies reside in Upland and if either company wins the new contract it will mean their continued residence in this district.

Citrus House Manager Will Be Director in Extension Service

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth I. Hanson and son will leave here July 2 for Honolulu where Mr. Hanson has accepted a position with the University of Hawaii agricultural extension division. He will be in charge of the agricultural economic project, handling vegetable crop estimating, issuing weekly market reports and directing various field projects all over the island.

While his contract is for one year he will be in the islands for an indefinite period. Mr. Hanson was formerly in Hawaii, being on Kauai island with the public schools.

Mr. Hanson's new position will place him as one of the directors in the vast agricultural program conducted by the university. He will be in a position similar to the one held by H. P. Cady, formerly of Alta Loma, who went to the islands last year. Mr. Cady handles one phase of the extension work and Mr. Hanson will handle the economic and marketing aspects. Issuing of the marketing report is expected to be an interesting part of his new work.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson are widely known in the community and their enthusiasm in their various activities will be missed.

Mr. Hanson has been identified with the citrus industry for many years. He has been associated with his father, G. A. Hanson, in managing the Hanson Fruit Co.

Joan Andreas Paid Special Honors by State Assemblymen

To little Joan Andreas, talented young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Andreas of 775 West Nineteenth street, fell the honor of stopping a session of the California assembly while the state legislators paused to do her honor.

Little Joan is the granddaughter of Assemblyman Godfrey A. Andreas of Upland and she recently visited her grandfather at the state capital, in company with her parents and her grandmother, Mrs. Godfrey A. Andreas.

It was during the visit in Sacramento that Joan was called before the tssembly, that august body voting to adjourn for a few minutes while she entertained them with two songs. And that was one occasion when the assemblymen, including the grandfather, reached a unanimous decision, that Joan is an adorable baby and a talented entertainer.

Joan also sang and danced for the Pals club, an organization of the wives of assemblymen and senators, in Hotel Senator, where her mother and grandmother were guests.

They're On Their Own

If there are some Americans who have been feeling sympathetic for the poor British taxpayer because of the large sum devoted by parliament to maintain the monarch and the royal family—including the Duke of Windsor—they may have their anxiety relieved. For—according to what we read—this money does not come from the pockets of the British taxpayer, but the money with which the king and his royal family are supported comes from the crown lands that have been in the family for generations. So—Mrs. Wallie Simpson will help the former King Edward do some of the spending, for it is the property that formerly belonged to Edward that will pay the bill.

The San Bernardino Evening Telegram comments as follows:

"King George and His Royal Highness, the Duke of Windsor, and the others to whom the labor members of parliament delight to refer as parasites have as much right to live on the money voted by parliament as President Roosevelt has to collect and spend whatever money accrues from the Hyde Park estate he inherited from his grandfather.

"These lands to which we refer as crown lands have not really been under the complete control and direction of the crown for about two centuries and a half. The title is vested in the British government, which of course, means the crown but is no longer held in the name of the Windsor family. George Windsor does not own them any more. But as King of England he controls them, as he controls everything else under his government, including the army and navy.

"Not only is Georve VI King of England and Emporor of India, but he is also Duke of Cornwall. The revenues from the Duchy of Cornwall alone add up to about three millions of dollars a year. Other revenues which go to the crown include the Duchy of York, which is one of the titles held by George before his access on to the throne. Thus the revenues from that duchy went into his own private account.

"Therefore, while it is true the British taxpayer walks up to the captain's desk and settles annually a tax bill four times as great as we poor downtrodden Americans pay, none of the money goes to keep the so-called parasites eating. The British taxpayers' money right now is being spent on getting England ready to defend herself in the mighty world war that is coming.

"The British taxpayer is paying so much at this moment for rearmament because the English pacifists, who are blood-brothers under the skin to our own group of that character, were able to talk the former British government out of providing means for national defense."

How To Get Along With People

Each month there is a little trade magazine that comes to this office which has many wise and interesting remarks in it—the Imperial magazine. From it we get the following:

"What is the golden rule for getting along with people?

"Simply this: See that their ego is not deflated.

"Please, charm, delight and fascinate those you meet. Make them feel that you enjoy their company. Let them talk. Listen interestedly. Compliment them when you can do so sincerely. Make them feel important. However humble or famous they may be, let them see from your eyes, your smile, the expression of your face, or your bearing that you are happy to be with them.

"One who can do all this in the right way has what is called a charming personality. Some people are born with the gift; others must cultivate it.

"Many persons are indifferent whether they please people or not. At least they say they are. Superficially such self-reliance seems commendable, but actually it is a serious handicap to progress.

"We get ahead by inducing other people to do things our way and to see things from our point of view. If we are backed by plenty of law and money we can force them to do as we wish whether they like us or not, but that method is expensive and cumbersome. By tact we can get our way with a fraction of the effort.

"Therefore the man who is interested in practical success will do his utmost to master the art of pleasing others. He will find that this art is the supreme labor-saver in our complicated civilization which makes us so dependent on one another."

See where a New York woman arrested on a charge of absconding with $50,000 of the funds of a former employer admitted that she had spent every dollar of her loot in an effort to keep up with wealthy socialite friends. Simply another variation of that very, very old story of "trying to keep up with the Joneses." The trouble with attempting to do that is that it is not at all unlikely the Joneses are trying to keep up with someone who is attempting to keep up with another party who may also be spending more than they can afford. The ancient Greeks said "Be thyself." In these later days we simply exclaim "Be yourself"—but it means the same thing. What the Joneses have did not satisfy them after they got it—and so does not seem so important now. Many a financial baron who has ruined his health by too many of the things wealth buys would give a large portion of his wealth to again be a youth with a good stomach—or even to have the good stomach in his old age. Many of the "society flakes" would gladly exchange their social position and elegant clothes for the youthful loveliness and true happiness of the girls who look down from the gallery on them in their expensive boxes.

More than twenty thousand men and women work for the state of California, according to William Brownrigg, executive officer of the State Personnel Board. There are constant changes resulting in vacancies, making openings for others who desire employment, a great majority of which are filled by competitive civil service examinations. This should be of interest to college, high school and business school students who are interested in finding jobs for which little experience is required. There are many clerical and junior positions in the state service which require only high school graduation or a small amount of additional experience. Bulletins giving information concerning these positions are often found in the postoffices, or those interested may write the State Personnel Board, Sacramento. Such positions as these often lead to something better in the state service—at least they provide the means for ambitious persons getting a start.

There are none of us who are perfect—although occasionally we meet someone who apparently thinks he is.

Teachers Guests at Armstrong Ranch At Ramona

Several members of the faculty of the Fannie D. Noe school enjoyed a particularly pleasant trip last week end when they accepted an invitation from Miss Florence Armstrong and her brother, Robert Armstrong, to visit them at their turkey ranch near Ramona, east of San Diego.

Three of the group motored down Friday evening, with the others going down early Saturday morning.

Facts About Poppy Sold by Auxiliary

The memorial poppy is a replica of the poppies which grew on the battlefields of France and Belgium during the World war.

The poppy was chosen as the memorial flower for the World war dead because it grew where they fell, the one touch of beauty in the desolated battle areas.

The poppies are made by disabled World war veterans working in government hospitals and in poppy workrooms under direction of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The poppies are distributed by women and girls of the American Legion Auxiliary and cooperating organizations, working as unpaid volunteers.

Contributions for the poppies are used to support the work of the American Legion and Auxiliary for the welfare of disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead.

Every American Legion poppy bears a Legion and Auxiliary label which gives assurance that it is a veteran-made flower and that every penny contributed for it will go into Legion and Auxiliary welfare funds.

Wearing the poppy means that the wearer is honoring the war dead and aiding the war's living victims.

SHEA NINE OPENS ONTARIO LEAGUE

Local Team Plays Tonight Against Hotpoint in Twilight Opener

Night baseball begins in a big way in Ontario tonight with the J. F. Shea Co. nine meeting the Hotpoint team in the opening game of the city league. The game will open at 7 p. m., on the Ontario "Y" lot.

Two other leagues will get underway in Ontario, providing baseball games every night. Opening on Thursday will be an industrial league. Ontario has a team in the Central league, including nines from cities in the citrus belt.

In the Ontario city league are the Shea Co., Hotpoint, Exchange Orange Products and the Mt. View dairy. The industrial league comprises all of the above named teams, except the Mt. View dairy is out and Armstrong's is in its place. The Armstrong nine, playing under the name of Ontario Merchants, is the representative in the Central league.

In a final practice game Friday night, the Shea nine defeated Mt. View dairy 2 to 1. Mathis chalked up 14 strikeouts while Benson, milkman twirler, fanned eight.

Story Characters To Come to Life At Local Library

Parents are urged to ask their children to make a special visit to the Sarah Temple junior library this week in order that they may see the most interesting exhibits on display, it was stated today by Miss Elizabeth Wright, children's librarian. The children will be delighted to see many of their old book friends "come to life," including Alice in Wonderland and the Mad Hatter; the three little pigs and their houses of straw, sticks and brick, as well as the big bad wolf. Hansel and Gretel and the while "oh's" and "ah's" of delight old witch are to be seen beside a "really truly" gingerbread house, will be heard when the old woman who lived in the shoe and her many, many children are viewed.

According to inside information, many parents seem to gain as much real enjoyment from the exhibits as the young folks, Miss Wright said, and she urges them to come in with their children and renew acquaintance with early book friends.

The regular Saturday afternoon story hours, held at 2 o'clock in the Sarah Temple junior library, are to be discontinued during the summer months, the last story hour coming on June 26. Therefore, Miss Wright requests parents to inform their children of this fact, and to invite them to attend as many of the five remaining story hours as possible.

Sit in it—settle back in its cushions and sense the bulk of its fine mass beneath you—you feel better already and you haven't made a start!

Take the wheel, it fits your hand like a sword-grip—swing it, it's easy and responsive as a bandmaster's baton!

Touch the treadle—quiet and silky that waiting engine leaps into life quick as a hungry trout—that's no mere six you're bossing, but the matchless valve-in-head straight eight that only Buick knows how to build!

What's to keep you from going ahead with this king-pin car this spring and summer? If you think it's money, think once more—for this great eight costs little more than the average six, and actually less than some!

So come see us now. Once in a Buick your own good sense will make you reach for the dotted line.
